NEW ROAD

Wanted From Harned To Kingswood--Road Not Fit For Travel Says Prof Hughes

Hardinsburg, Dec. 29.—Rev. J. W. Hughes, of Kingswood, was here Monday in the interest of the public road from Harned Station to Kingswood, where his school is located. He prayed the County Court to consider the matter favorable and they now have it on the table. Prof. Hughes claims the road is not in fit condition to handle the increased traffic that is now going over that highway and in the interest of the general public the county should rebuild the road.

CUSTER SCHOOL

Closes With Bright Entertainment
Given By Teachers And Pupils.

Dave C. Walls, on the day before Christmas, closed at Custer a most successful school with an entertainment that taxed the capacity of the commodious church, in which the exercises were held. The children in song, music and recitation showed careful preparation and displayed a talent that speaks largely for great possibilities in the future.

Among those who did specially good work in the closing exercises were: Misses Eliza and Louise Taylor, Nora and Ella Hoskinson, Tessie Mitcham, Lou, Fannie and Bertie Harned, Esther and Emma Meador, Mildred Board, Eriel Kennison, Eva Alexander, Bettie Fife, and Masters Alle Alexander, Guy Springgate, Noel Hoskinson, Tom and Alfred Mitcham, Earl Board and Hubert Jones.—In fact all did well and lack of space forbids further mention of names. Miss Carrie Walls, sister of the teacher, gave a well received recitation. The exercises closed with Joe Trent's playing Santa Claus and distributing the presents from the loaded Christmas trees.

Mr. Walls' pupils testified in their Christmas tokens upon the tree, their expression of regard in numerous gifts which he carried back to his home at Hardinsburg.

There is a universal call for his return in the fall. Mr. Walls will spend several months at the Western Normal and will return to Custer able to meet every expectation of the enthusiastic patrons, who demand his coming to take up again his well begun work.

He is delighted with the character of school material that the Custer neighborhood affords and the support of patrons and people generally impressed itself upon him in such a way that he is convinced that no better school people exist in the county.

THE BASILISK.

How the Fabulous Monster Was Placed by Ancient Writers.

The basilisk was the most famous of the many fabulous monsters of medieval folklore. According to the popular notion, it was hatched by a toad from an egg laid by the cock of the common barnyard fowl. In the ancient picture books it was usually represented as an eight limbed serpent or dragon, sometimes with wings and sometimes without wings. Its name is derived from basiliskos, meaning a little king, and was applied because the creature was figured with a circle of white spots on its head which much resembled a crown. The cockatrice, a species of basilisk, besides having a crown, possessed the wings of a griffin. Pny assures us that the basilisk had a voice which "struck terror" the creature was armed with a circle of white spots on its head which much resembled a crown. WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6, 1909.

TO THE KENTUCKY PRESS AND OTHERS.

The girl who left the Breckenridge News office last Tuesday to attend the Kentucky Press Association in Louisville, was truly in love with news-paper work and since her return home she confesses without hesitating that now she is in love with news-paper men. It might be more exciting if she could use the singular form of the word "men," but to even think of such is impossible, for an editor brought down from the mountains his promising son, and several interesting bachelors were there and some pleasing widowers. Laying all affairs of the heart aside, notwithstanding they are a little serious, that meeting was one of the best treats the daughter of the editor of the News has ever had. It was indeed a pleasure to meet the publishers whose papers she has been reading since she mastered the "Little Teacher" and very instructive to her were the excellent addresses delivered by the capable news-paper workers who took part in the programme.

The Press gathering was distinguished by the presence of Col. E. Polk Johnson, and the one who wrote "The Pay" thanks him for the beautiful ovation he gave her. And too, she wants to thank all: The Courier Journal, The Evening Post, The Louisville Herald, The Owensboro Messenger, The Kentucky State Journal, The Louisville Times, The Elizabethtown News, The Shelby Record, The Pineville Sun, The Williamson Courier, The Weekly New Era, The Sun Sentinel for the complimentary notices about the simple, but earnest paper written by the assistant editor of the News. The compliments are appreciated and have strongly stimulated her wishes and ambitions for greater accomplishments in journalism. Gratefulness is felt for the encouragement, especially from her home people, from Superintendent Joel H. Pile, from Judge Henry DeHaven Moorman and others who meet her every day with some kind and unselfish expression. Their good words are worth more than silver or gold.

May each and every one, who gave one thought, who spoke one word, who expressed one wish for the success to the girl at the desk, have a splendid 1909, filled with days of joy and plenty of "Pay." Your interest has made her pen lighter, and her ink clearer.

CAN'T BE SEPARATED.

Some Cloverport People Have Learned How To Get Rid Of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers. You can't separate them.

And you can't get rid of the back ache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are weak and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong, healthy kidneys.

Elvin C. West, living on Main & Cross St., Elizabethtown, Ky., says: "Since I gave a statement recommending Doan's Kidney Pills on April 1905 I have never failed to advise their use at every opportunity as they cured me of kidney complaint when other remedies failed. I was troubled at times with backache which was so severe that I could hardly attend to my work and stooping, lifting or any over-exertion would cause sharp twinges of pain. My kidneys finally became disordered and the secretions were irregular and unnatural in appearance. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I procured a box. They quickly cured me of the trouble and I am happy to say that during the last few years there has not been the slightest recurrence of the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

One night little Margaret, on kneeling by her mamma to say her prayers finished, "Now I say, Amen" and forgot "Mamma," she said, "you just start me, and then I can go a-whizzing!"—Delineator.

Caller—Is the lady of the house in? Waitress (who has been given notice)—She's in, but she's no lady—Life.

"Had dyspepsia or indigestion for years. No appetite, and what I did eat distressed me terribly. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me."—J. H. Walker, Sanbury, Ohio.

BRITISH PRINCES.

Very Different From the King in Exemption From Laws.

So privileged is the king of England in his exemption from any and every law that one would naturally expect his children might do pretty much as they like. But Englishmen have always been very jealous of royal prerogatives, and the fact is that princes enjoy very few privileges indeed. A prince of the royal blood may be fined, like any ordinary mortal, if his motor car exceeds the legal limit of speed.

The Prince of Wales cannot be sued personally for debt. If the debt is not paid the creditor may take out a summons, but he must summon the treasurer, not the prince. If the case goes against the treasurer the money is paid out of the prince's estate.

No child of the king who is under twenty-five can marry without the king's consent. Supposing, however, a prince over twenty-five desired to marry and the king refused his consent, then the prince could give notice of his intention to the privy council. After that he would have to restrain his patience for a whole year. During that time either the house of lords or the house of commons disapproved of the marriage it could not take place. But if both houses of parliament were satisfied the prince could marry the woman of his choice.

A prince has not even the right to educate his own children, for it was long ago laid down that the king has the care and education of his grandchildren while they are minors.—London Telegraph.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or snuff a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

Bouncing Betsey.

There is an old fashioned tower called "Bouncing Betsey," which every one should love for one reason. We have a grave as if trying to make a corner of that some one who once lived there. It may also be found in the corner of old fashioned gardens where it grows and blooms and protests against being pushed out entirely. There are some dear old fashioned people who suggest "Bouncing Betsey,"—Atchison Globe.

Her Latest Luxury.

"Young druggist take the heavy father, 'do you understand the style in which my daughter has been accustomed to live? She has always had every luxury she wanted.' "And now I'm the luxury she wants," murmured the suitor.—London Globe.

MISERY IN STOMACH.

And Indigestion Vanishes in Five Minutes And You Feel Fine.

Why not start now—today, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and Indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapiesin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and Distress, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and besides, one triangle will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapiesin works your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to begin taking Diapiesin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapiesin, because you want to be thoroughly cured of Indigestion.

EATING TOO MUCH.

Overnutrition is just as harmful as Malnutrition.

It is an acknowledged fact that almost every soul of us eats too much. The digestive organs are constantly overtrained and finally weakened. When wisely followed, the practice of fasting can be most beneficial. An expert on the food question has said that one should rise from the table with the feeling of hunger, which is an experience known to very few of us. On the contrary, the majority of people leave the board with a sense of burden, with only an hour's slumber can alleviate. This is not so much owing to the fact that the food is uncommodiously rich, for the rule of the simple life obtains now in the fashionable cuisines, but it is the quantity taken. There is a large community at the present moment which fasts from breakfast time till dinner at night. It is a question if it is wiser to leave the stomach entirely without food during all those hours, but there is no question that the lighter the lunch taken the better will be the health of the individual. By a "light lunch" in this instance is meant what most people would not call a lunch at all—that is to say, a few crackers with cheese (a much maligned article) or diet a few nuts and a bit of fruit or a cup of cocoa with dry toast. Such a "feast" prevents the craving for food and in no way taxes the digestive organs. Overnutrition is just as harmful as malnutrition and is far more frequently the cause of maladies. With judicious fasting the system recovers its lost tone, and mental workers would find that the brain worked with surprising lightness, for the brain is one of the chief sufferers from over-eating.—New York American.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

The Other Course.

Bollicitor—And I am sure you will find, madam, that this is the best course to adopt in the event of your friendly letter failing to produce the effect we desire. Client—Yes, I see, Mr. Jones. If I cannot get what I want by fair means, I must put the matter unreservedly into your hands.—Punch.

One Thing He Could Not Have.

Although there was no sort of toy which could be bought and for which Harold had expressed a desire that was not in his possession, he still had his unsatisfied longings. "I know what I wish I was, mother," he said one day when his own big brother had gone away and the little boy across the street was ill. "Yes, dear," said his mother. "Perhaps you can be it, Harold; mother will help you. Is it to play soldier?" "No, indeed," said Harold solemnly. "I just wish I was two little dogs, so I could play together."—Youth's Companion.

Luck In Horseshoes.

The superstition about luck in horseshoes dates back too far for record, but it was not always confined to the horseshoe. Any piece of iron found in one's path was accounted a sign of good luck, and as horseshoes were more commonly picked up than any other article of that metal that particular object at last became the standard emblem of good fortune and the supposed defense against bad luck. In Aubrey's "Miscellanies," written 200 years ago, the author mentions having seen the horseshoe nailed up in church, and he also says that "most of the houses in the west end of London have the horseshoe on the threshold." The horseshoe to possess virtue must have been found, not purchased or looked up. Admiral Nelson had great faith in the luck of the horseshoe, and one was nailed to the mast of his ship, the Victory.—London Chronicle.

Don't Get a Divorce

The Brakeman's Advice.

Down in Maine is a town called Burnham, situated on a small branch railroad that joins the main line at Burnham Junction. One day as the train approached the latter place the brakeman entered the car and in his usual stentorian tones went through his regular rigmarole when a station and junction are reached. "Burnham Junction!" he shouted. "Burnham Junction! Change cars for Burnham! Leave no articles in the car! Burn'am, Burn'am"—Lippincott's.

BABY'S ITCHING WAS INTOLERABLE

Girl of Six Months had Fearful Attack of Eczema—Spread All Over Her Face and Eyes Began to Swell—Scratched Till Blood Came—Relieved in a Night and

CURED BY CUTICURA AFTER LONG SUFFERING

"When my little girl was six months old I noticed small red spots on her right cheek. I did not pay any attention to them but finally the spots grew so large that I sent for the doctor who said it was ringworm. He prescribed an ointment which I used for two weeks, but instead of helping the eruption, the skin seemed to make it worse. Then I went to a second doctor who after examining the baby said it was eczema. He also gave me an ointment which I used for two weeks. The disease in the meantime spread all over the face and the eyes began to swell. I became very anxious. The itching grew intolerable. I had to tie the baby's hands to the cradle to prevent her scratching. The cheeks were covered with blood and it was a terrible sight to see. I consulted doctors from September to December, but they were unable to cure the baby. I paid out from twenty to thirty dollars without relief.

"One of my friends told me of the Cuticura Remedies and I sent at once for a set which I began to use that evening. The next morning the baby's face was all white instead of red and you can imagine how surprised I was. I cannot find words enough to praise Cuticura and I do not know what would have become of my baby only for it. I used the Cuticura Remedies until the eczema entirely disappeared. The child is now three years old and as healthy as a baby. I used Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and I never use any other soap. I always recommend them whenever there is a chance for their use. I will send you one of her pictures, which she had taken just after she was healed. Mrs. P. E. Gumbin, Sheldahl, Ia., July 13, 1908."
